Comments by Deacon Dale Brown

We all know and believe that Jesus will "come again in glory to judge the living and the dead. "We affirm that belief each week when we pray the Creed. But it is possible that we have not thought deeply enough about the meaning of this final Judgment. For example, we know that God is infinitely merciful. But in today's Gospel, Jesus welcomes some people into his eternal Kingdom, but others go off to eternal punishment. It is hard for us to understand fully how God's mercy can go together with eternal punishment, but we can understand it partially. Today's Gospel passage can help us. When Jesus addresses the first group of people, the ones entering heaven, he says to them: "Come, you who are blessed by my Father..." But when he addresses the second group, the ones entering eternal punishment, he says to them: "Depart from me, you accursed." Notice how the blessing received by the first group came from God ("blessed by my Father"), but the curse received by the second group did not ("accursed"). The second group purposely and freely chose to live their earthly lives egocentrically. They didn't enter into a friendship with God, because they didn't want the lifestyle of love and self-giving that goes with it. For their entire lives they resisted and rejected God's many invitations - the voice of conscience, the teachings of the Church, the example of believers, the lives of the saints, the beauties of creation. They freely chose to live separate from God. Now, after lives like that, would it be merciful for God to force them to spend eternity in his presence? No - it would be cruel. Hell is not God's creation, it is the creation of those who freely and consistently choose to live without God.

Intenciones de Misa Misión de OLG

Sat Nov 21
6:00pm — Amelia Therese Williams
Sat Nov 28
6:00pm — Jose Guadalupe Diaz de parte de Uriel Diaz

Comuníquese con la oficina parroquial para solicitar una intención de Misa.

Aviso sobre las intenciones de Misa
Hasta nuevo aviso, debido a la programación pastoral y a lo dispuesto en el Canon 534 §1 —que exige al párroco celebrar una Misa por el pueblo cada domingo—, es posible que sea necesario ajustar algunos horarios de Misa.
Tenga la seguridad de que su intención de Misa se celebrará durante el mismo fin de semana solicitado. Lo que podría cambiar es el horario y, de ser necesario, el lugar de celebración.
Una intención de Misa es una oportunidad para unir una intención particular a la oración de toda la Iglesia. Cuando su intención se presenta en la Misa, nuestra comunidad parroquial se une a usted en oración y su intención se encomienda a la Comunión de los Santos. Su intención sigue siendo honrada aunque cambie el horario o el lugar de la Misa.
Si se modifica el horario o el lugar de su Misa, la oficina parroquial intentará ponerse en contacto directamente con usted. No es necesario llamar a la oficina para confirmar el horario de la Misa.
Agradecemos sinceramente su paciencia, comprensión y buena disposición al realizar estos ajustes necesarios. Gracias por encomendar sus intenciones a las oraciones de nuestra parroquia.

Comentarios de
Deacon Dale Brown

Todos sabemos y creemos que Jesús «vendrá de nuevo con gloria para juzgar a los vivos y a los muertos». Afirmamos esta creencia cada semana al rezar el Credo. Sin embargo, es posible que no hayamos reflexionado lo suficiente sobre el significado de este Juicio final. Por ejemplo, sabemos que Dios es infinitamente misericordioso; no obstante, en el Evangelio de hoy, Jesús acoge a algunas personas en su Reino eterno, mientras que otras van al castigo eterno. Nos resulta difícil comprender plenamente cómo la misericordia de Dios puede coexistir con el castigo eterno, aunque podemos entenderlo en parte. El pasaje evangélico de hoy puede ayudarnos. Cuando Jesús se dirige al primer grupo —aquellos que entran en el cielo—, les dice: «Vengan, benditos de mi Padre...». Pero, al dirigirse al segundo grupo —los que van al castigo eterno—, les dice: «Apártense de mí, malditos». Fíjense en que la bendición que recibe el primer grupo proviene de Dios («benditos de mi Padre»), mientras que la maldición que recibe el segundo grupo no («malditos»). El segundo grupo eligió, de manera deliberada y libre, vivir su existencia terrenal de forma egocéntrica. No entablaron una amistad con Dios porque no deseaban el estilo de vida basado en el amor y la entrega a los demás que conlleva dicha amistad. A lo largo de toda su vida, resistieron y rechazaron las numerosas invitaciones de Dios: la voz de la conciencia, las enseñanzas de la Iglesia, el ejemplo de los creyentes, la vida de los santos y la belleza de la creación. Eligieron libremente vivir separados de Dios. Ahora bien, tras una vida así, ¿sería misericordioso por parte de Dios obligarlos a pasar la eternidad en su presencia? No; sería un acto de crueldad. El infierno no es una creación de Dios, sino el resultado de quienes eligen, libre y constantemente, vivir sin Él.
